Heartbeat International has championed our LOVE Approach Ultrasound training. Introduced in 2021, the LOVE Approach method to scanning is a new form of training that connects the technical needs and the spiritual needs for those working in pregnancy help to provide ultrasound training. We strongly encourage students unfamiliar with this approach to complete Heartbeat's refresher training to avoid confusion over variations in approach and terminology. Additionally please note that Heartbeat recognizes that, under the authority of their medical director, pregnancy medical clinics can implement policies and procedures unique to the communities that they serve.
