Description

Because life-affirming care is stressful with layers of challenges, including serving those who have experienced trauma as well as working in counter-cultural organizations, we must be intentional about the steps we take to serve long term. Whether hoping to improve staff retention, maintain excellent client services, or focus on your own desire to serve with joy and peace, you will learn about a God-honoring, P.R.O. Life perspective on serving in the pregnancy help movement.
